INSTRUCTIONS FOR NOMINATION

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Who: Any person, alive or deceased, who has made outstanding and notable contributions to clinical engineering (CE) can be nominated for the CE-HOF, regardless of age, sex, race, nationality, residency, education level, years of experience, and membership within ACCE (i.e., non-ACCE members are acceptable). A person cannot be inducted to CE-HOF based on a single achievement, extended period of service, or any contribution that can be considered as normal and expected from his/her employment or assignment. Furthermore, none of the accomplishments presented to support the nomination can be less than 10 years old, so it is clear that those accomplishments stood the test of time. Self nominations will not be accepted.

Eligibility Criteria: For an individual to be eligible for induction, the contributions made by the candidate must meet one or more of the following criteria:

- Impact: The contribution has significantly impacted the development or growth of CE and continues to demonstrate relevance to the profession's continual advancement and evolution.
- Influence: The contribution has significantly influenced: i) the work of others in the field; ii) the healthcare industry; iii) society at large, regardless of country or region of the world.
- Innovation: The contribution has challenged the status quo and entrenched misconceptions with original thinking / creativity through: i) introduction of new concepts, methods, or tools; ii) removal or reduction of obstacles; or iii) enhancement of safety and reliability of medical equipment.
- Reach: The contribution has significantly impacted large amount of current and prospective CE professionals, clinical users, regulatory authorities, patients, and society at large.
